WE ARE NORDIC

Nordic — Office of Architecture is a leading architectural practice in Scandinavia, employing 130 professionals. Our offices are located in Oslo, Copenhagen and London.
When Istanbul New Airport is finished, it will not only be the largest airport in the world, it will also be a testimony to one of Nordic’s core fields of expertise: airport design. Masterplanning and executing major airport hubs and small town terminals alike, we always design for functionality and long term flexibility, using ingenious architecture to create flow and effective logistics.

HEALTH

HOSPITAL PLANNING AND DESIGN

At Nordic, we see hospitals and health facilities as places of healing. Drawing the building from a user’s perspective helps us develop a deep insight into the unique challenges and possibilities designing a health facility presents. We are currently involved in several hospital and health facility projects in Norway, Denmark and UK.
A home is not a building just as a neighbourhood is not a collection of streets. So whether we’re designing entire communities or private houses, our attitude is always the same: let’s make a place where people can actually live.

LEARNING

EDUCATION ENVIRONMENTS

 Somehow it feels like an honour to build a school. To build something that will have a defining power over generations to come is not a task to be taken lightly. Our Learn Group has worked with everything from nurseries to higher education institutions, and has gained extensive insight and experience in building for different types of learning.
